

Advisors Race to Prioritize Cybersecurity

July 20, 2021

“After an event enters the news cycle, we immediately see an uptick in client inquiries regarding messaging,” said Wes Stillman, CEO of RightSize Solutions, a Lenexa, Kansas-based cybersecurity firm serving the wealth management industry. “The questions typically are what are we doing to address this specific type of threat and how can I best communicate to our customers that we are proactively managing this type of threat.”

Read the article here.